Occupying one of the largest areas in LPHS is the Industrial Arts Department. Mechanical drawing, metal shop, printing, wood shop, auto shop, electricity, radio, and television combine to form one of the most productive departments in this school.

The proper use of carpentry tools and materials is taught in wood shop. Among the many projects in which the students participate are furniture making and cabinet designing.

Mechanical drawing, the universal graphic language, is a useful art for all boys, regardless of what field he pursues. The basic principals of perspective, pictorial views, and abstract reasoning are taught in this class. College prep students with no previous drawing experience can get a basic drawing knowledge from an engineer drawing course also offered.

pads. Besides printing the school's newspaper, the Railsplitter, the advanced class also handles printing assignments for the entire Lincoln Park School System.

Such experience prepares the student for eventual work in the newspaper business or in advertising.

Metal shop offers background training for occupations such as plumbing, heating and foundry work. Among the various projects that are constructed are book-shelves and tie racks.

Auto mechanics prepares experienced, conscientious drivers for the American road. By doing actual work on cars and engines, boys in this course learn the proper methods for keeping a car in good running condition. The boys do actual work on cars and engines as they learn correct methods of keeping a car in good running condition. Various engines and parts have been donated to LPHS by different companies. This adds additional interest to the class.

The electricity facet of the Industrial Arts Department invalues radio, television and practical electricity. The first course of electricity provides the student with general information about wiring, household electricity, and house wiring.

Radio, a two semester course deals with the concepts of radio. This course offers practice with frequency meters, tube testers, etc. An addition to the class was made this year in the form of a new radio and mast. The school board presented the aerial, which radiates and receives both frequency and amplitude-modulated radio programs and short wave broadcasts. Television station beams also are received.

After completion of the other three courses, students are eligible for television repair. This class is very small compared to the number of boys who begin this electrical program. A better understanding of advanced circuitry through the repair of television receivers is attained in this class.

The Industrial Arts Department provides a good firm background in the industrial field. The main goal is to stimulate the students interest in this area.

Crowning the magnificent construction of Lincoln Park High School, like an elegant dome, is the gymnastic arena.

Lincoln Park stands proud in its possession of one of the best-developed Physical Education Departments in this entire area.

The department, headed by Mr. Ted Grignon, is composed of four different divisions: the gymnasium, the natatorium, the basement, and the health education area. Each individual section is used for a specific purpose.

The school gymnasium, usually divided into three different sections, can be transformed into a vast construction of modern beauty. The two sliding steel doors fold back to reveal a splendid auditorium used for sport assemblies, sport competitions, and for general physical education classes.

Another feature of modern elegance, is the magnificent interior of Lincoln Park High's natatorium. The natatorium is used for the instruction of the basic fundamentals of swimming. The Flamingo Club and the school swimming team employ the pool's facilities to their utmost advantage.

Another beneficial advantage to the students of LPHS is the area which enables individuals to use its facilities all year around. That area is the school basement with its underground track and two large rooms, the rifle range and archery range.

The final, but surely not the least stressed, is the health education classes. These classes explore the world of modern hygiene, and they also endeavor to tackle some of puzzling problems which confront modern youth.

This year the physical education department has become much more specified. The instructors are presently employing the "Block System" which means that the students taking gym will engage in a 3-week course of one specific sport. Also, the department instructors are concentrating on a newly devised physical fitness program. Timings were taken of all gym students at the beginning of each semester and again at the end to see how well each student progressed after engaging in different activities. Gymnastics, swimming, and a new program, modern dancing, were taught in many of the girl's gym classes while sport appreciation, weight lifting, tumbling, and badminton kept the boy's gym classes busy.

Serving under the direction of Mr. Grignon are Mrs. Kupinski, Miss Donnelly, Miss Gadigan, Miss Middleton, Mr. Brodie, Mr. Hottinger, Mr. Martin, Mr. Noland, and Mr. Tarrant.

Social Studies Department

Mr. Sist

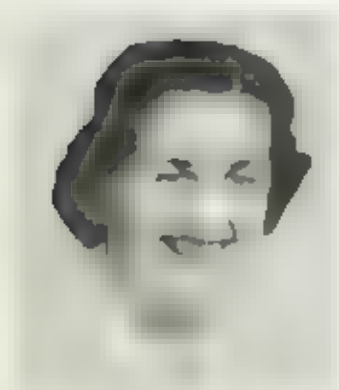

Mrs. Vozko

An artist's conception of any high school would be incomplete if he were to eliminate the Social Science Department. At LPHS, this department consists of 20 teachers, and covers approximately 2½ wings of the entire school construction.

The main objective of this department is to present to the students a program for studying the history and advancements of human events and human relations. The initial components in this department are World History 1&2, American History 1&2, World Geography 1&2, Economics, Civics 1&2, International Relations, and Sociology.

World History proposes a study in the development of man's conquests, social justice, and achievements since recorded time. Whereas, American History, a required course, unfolds the chapters of early American life since the landing of our Puritan Ancestors. This course revolves around the advancements of our American society, and how the succession of American government progressed through the centuries.

The significance of the World Geography course is to stress some of the World's geographical features and their effects. It also includes a study of trade, commerce, and reveals the existance of the more predominate nations and those countries which are considered in the world standard to be quite backward.

In this time of crucial moments and history-making decisions, it is vitally important to understand some of the objectives in which our governmental heads choose to activate. In order to capture the true significance of our relations with other countries, we must have some background information on goals and objectives which all countries strive for in order to gain eternal peace. This information can be thoroughly achieved through the intricate study of International Relations. This one-semester course explains what International Relations are, why America has them, and what is their direct effects on other countries.

One of the true obstacles and definats that will confront us further Communistic conquests, will be the nation who thoroughly understands their governmental systems. This bit of added knowledge can help injure or destroy the entire Communistic form of government. In the study of Civics, another required course, the American governmental system is adequately explained to the students. A true analysis of the American Constitution is related to the students, and the course shows how the ideas of our forefathers can still be applied to our present form of government.

A subject that is always found to be a very interesting one is that of Economics. This course explains the economics of a variety of different countries, and it also explains what influences the economy of a nation.

The subject of Sociology captures the reality of life, and it exposes some of the startling events that occurred in the rotation of human development. This intriguing subject involves the topics of religion, race, heredity, and it also explains some of man's reactions to life and to the society in which he claims inhabitation.

According to Mr. Zulewski, department head, the Social Studies Department is undergoing a slow change. He says that World Geography will be a lengthened two-semester subject, and that he would like to initiate a study of Communism on their busy agenda.

Science in itself is an art, and no portrait is complete without having some scientific thought behind it. Thus, a complete portrait of Lincoln Park High School must include a section devoted to the LPHS Science Department, directed by Mr. William Wilcox.

This department fulfills its objective of providing opportunity for every student to obtain scientific training by offering biology, chemistry, physics, and physiology to those who are interested.

A student's first encounter with the Sciences may come in the tenth grade, when he is optioned to take biology. Biology students begin this course by studying elementary botany, gradually advancing to the lowest form of animal life, and on to the more complicated forms of mammals, such as man.

In order to acquaint the students personally and individually with biology, work in the laboratories has been greatly stressed in the past year, and is expected to become even more important in the future.

In previous years, biology consisted of only two semesters, but starting this semester a second year of biology has been offered to those who have completed Biology I and II, Biology III and IV, or Advanced Physiology, is to be a continuation of the study of human beings. The course provides much laboratory experience with special emphasis on experiments in genetics.

Mrs. Hanna

Miss Donnelly

A physiology student demonstrates the functions of the various parts of the human body

A junior or senior may continue his scientific education by taking Chemistry I or II. A chemistry student must first master the basics of chemistry, such as the atomic theory and the periodic law. This includes formulas, valences and valuable atomic weights. The pupil of Advanced Chemistry (II) must have a broad knowledge of mathematics. Experiments this year included the making of ethanol (drinking alcohol), titration (finding the strength of an unknown base by using an acid of known strength).

Physics was first meant to include all of the physical sciences, but in time it has come to be only the study of matter and energy. This year the seniors who took physics covered five main areas. The first of these (mechanics) deals with the principles of force, and velocity as discussed in Newton's Laws. The transference and effect of heat comprise the second area of study. Experiments in in this field are conducted in the laboratory.

Sound is the next subject dealt with in the LPHS physics classes. Here, students are concerned mainly with the velocity and wave length of sound. Next, the young scientists are given a short course in electronics, which includes work with magnetism, small motors and a Van de Graff generator.

The last area covered is the study of light, comprised of optics, color, and even photography. These areas are combined to make physics the most interesting and challenging course in the LPHS Science Department.

Expanded courses and increasing emphasis on laboratory experiments will help to acquaint the students with the physical aspects of Science. The Science Department will continue to mold LP students into citizens, well prepared for the increasingly scientific world of the future.

Learning how to operate complicated machines is the job of our senior girls.

Another phase of the business field is shorthand. Shorthand is a vocational course in which signs are used for words or phrases thus making it a quick method of recording whenever necessary in business or for personal use. Speeds range from 60 words a minute in Shorthand I to 100-120 words a minute in Shorthand IV. Before deciding on taking this course, one should have a good background in English grammar and should be interested in secretarial work. After completing two years of shorthand, the student should hope to have good basic typing skills as far as transcribing letters is concerned, to be able to transcribe mailable letters, and to have a reasonable shorthand speed. Shorthand is an asset and a stepping stone to any job.

Giving students a general background of the machines used in business today is the job of the Business Machines teacher. A requirement to take this course is that you must have had completed a minimum of two semesters of typing in order to perform the duties required. Commercial students and any college prep students who wish to work full time or part time in the summer are recommended to take this course. Since it is only offered as a one-semester course it is impossible to become an expert on any one machine. A few of the machines that students learn to work are the printing calculator, the dictaphone, the electric typewriter, and the key-driven calculator. The students who take this course should hope to obtain an understanding on how to operate the various machines and attain reasonable skills in doing so.

Mr. Kohkales

Miss Nolin

An important derivative of shorthand is notehand, a new course just added to the program this semester. For college prep students who are juniors and seniors, this is a one-semester course on taking and organizing useful notes, not only from lectures, but also from text and research books. The main idea is to be able to listen effectively and record just the important parts in notehand, thus enabling a student to devote more time to study. Although no emphasis is put on speed, students are taught very basic shorthand which helps them to record notes quickly. At the present there is just one notehand class, but next semester there will be two.

Transcribing at the typewriter is a very important phase of advanced shorthand.

Lincoln Park High's Business Department tries to give the many commercial students salable skills. The Business Department has nine divisions which include... personal typing, general typing, office practice, business English, and business law. Although a portrait does not grow, its popularity does; and this is exactly what is happening in the Business Department. Each year this department is expanding and is becoming one of the largest departments in the school. The size of classes, the number of students in the retailing area, and the size of the business machines classes is increasing steadily. A goal that should be one of every commercial student is: "To strive, to seek, to obtain, but not to yield."

Designed namely for college prep students, Personal Typing is a course in which students learn to type, not just for speed; but they also become familiar with typing themes, manuscripts, and outlines. Although a grade is given for speed, it is not a requirement for passing the course. Being just a one-semester course, in the beginning, there was only one Personal Typing class; but now there are 177 people taking this course making a total of five classes.

Essential to the success of any business enterprise is the bookkeeper. Bookkeeping, a most valuable course offered, is the practice of keeping a systematic record of business transactions. It is for those who want to use it in a job later on or for those who want to use it for personal business such as budgeting. At the end of this one-year course, a student should be able to open a simple set of books, record any changes, and determine a profit or loss at the end of the year.

The studying of communication, oral and written, is the basis of what is taught in Business English. Although important emphasis is put on vocabulary and spelling study, other various things that are taught are basic grammar and punctuation, business letter writing, and memorandums. This is not a required course, but it is strongly urged to be taken in the 12B by those who are pursuing a commercial curriculum. Some of the valuable knowledge gained can be used in shorthand transcription, typing, office practice, and business machines.

Mr. Appel helps his students arrange their displays in his retailing class.

Students planning on getting a job typing should, however, choose the vocational typing classes--Typing I, II, and III. These typing classes prepare or try to give the students salable skills to use in making a living. At the end of the three semesters of typing offered, a person should be proficient in production work and maintain a degree of skill as far as speed is concerned, ranging from 20 words a minute in Typing I to 45 words a minute in Typing III. Business education teachers are mainly trying to train the students to meet the requirements of businesses within our vicinity.

A review course of all typing classes to date with special attention given to becoming more skillful in the use of business forms is the purpose of the Office Practice classes. Another facet of the course is that greater attention is given to filing which so many students will use later on in office work. All commercial students should take this course in order to gain employable skills as a clerical typist. One should become skilled in the use of the machine as it applies to business forms of various kinds such as rough drafts or tabulation.

To inform the students on what their legal rights and duties are regarding business is the purpose of the Business Law classes. Anyone and everyone should choose this course, but it is especially for those who might eventually be going into business for themselves. Although there are changes in the law every year, teachers try to keep abreast.

In view of all the facts presented about the Business Department, if a student takes a full commercial course and receives good grades he can expect that he will have enough skills to gain a clerical or secretarial job, after graduation.

Have an interest in cooking? Sewing? Decorating your room? All of these interests can be accomplished under the direction of the Home Economics Department which prepares our future homemakers. This department offers such courses as foods, clothing, interior decorating, and family living.

The Clothing I classes are given instructions in the selection of fabrics and clothes, reading of patterns, color and design, and grooming. Each girl is required to sew a sleeping garment by both hand and machine. Students in Clothing II are kept busy all semester sewing a skirt and blouse and a dress or jumper. Woolen fabrics are worked with in Clothing III. Jumpers and party dresses are sewn and modeled at the end of the semester at the fashion show they present to the mothers and to other classes.

Preparing snacks, breakfasts, lunches, cookies, desserts, and holiday foods are a few of the chores of the Foods I classes. The girls learn all the equivalents in the process of preparing these foods. Students in Foods II learn how to make pies and home-made cakes and how to assemble complete meals.

Mrs. Brackett

How to plan for packing well-balanced lunches is also stressed. In Foods III the girls learn how to make jellies, canned foods, and homemade bread. In these foods courses the girls study such books as "Experience With Foods, Foods for Better Living, Meal Time, and Manners.

Courses in Interior Decorating are combined with color schemes, architecture and design to obtain a happy home. Floor plans are made to arrange the furnishings in each room. Center pieces are made to add a touch of elegance to the rooms.

Family Living, a home management course, is built around the process of planning, controlling, and evaluating the use of family resources. Students learn the need for sacrifice and co-operation in marriage, and how to confront with problems that may arise.

The Home Economics Department gives the students the skills necessary in maintaining an ideal homelife.

LPHS English Department.

A high school's framework takes on many aspects. Each student, instructor, class, subject, and department forms an intricate part of this structure; and each is vital in depicting a portrait of a high school.

The various scholastic departments try to determine the most beneficial method of presenting the subjects over which they have authority. Every department is directed by a department head. The supervisor in charge of the department and the instructors involved with the subjects under this department's direction meet at various intervals throughout the school year to determine the materials needed to efficiently and effectively study this subject and to determine the basic requirements of this subject. All of these departments aid in the development of a portrait of a high school.

One such element which provides a basis for this portrait is the English Department.

Supervising the activities of this department during the past school year was Mrs. Jean Rich. This department includes all of the English classes from English three thru Senior Composition as well as the journalism classes.

To become proficient in the uses and application of the English language is important for every individual, and to aid each student in acquiring this asset is the goal of the English Department.

Merely knowing the definition of a noun, pronoun, adverb, adjective, etc. is not enough. A student must learn how to effectually employ these figures of speech to enable him to write precisely, concisely, and constructively.

Miss Fisher aids two English students in diagramming sentences.

During the past year, the English Department has been in a period of transistion. Steps have been taken to correlate English from kindergarten to the twelfth grade. The purpose is to unify English throughout school so that each student will obtain the same benefits and opportunities.

One function of the English Department is to combine the process of writing with reading. The student is taught to read for understanding, to read for comprehension, and to read for critical analysis. Emphasized also is that a student should not read merely for scholastic or academic purpose but also for enjoyment and/or for hobby. Because of this view each year of English, English 3, 4, 5, and 6, has been divided into general and advanced in order to separate the average or below average student from those students who are capable of higher academic achievement.

English 3, 4, 5, and 6 respectively stress paragraph development in essays revolving around transitional words and phrases, outlining, and research. The advanced English classes too emphasize paragraph construction but on a higher and more college bound level. English 7 and 8 are elective English courses entailing the study of English literature.

Mr. Baerwolf introduced semantics, which basically pertains to the study of meanings of words and the study of logic, to his English 7 classes during the past school year. Semantics attempts to clear up peoples' thinking by aiding them in considering more and by assisting them in gaining a greater awareness of human possibilities. Mr. Baerwolf is the first Lincoln Park High instructor to employ the use of semantics in the teaching of English literature and English language.

Senior composition puts continued emphasis on composition and comprehensive reading and is a beneficial requirement for all college bound students.

The English Department is only one of 10 such departments comprising the many subjects taught at Lincoln Park High. It is vitally important, as are the many other departments, in the depiction of a high school.

Language, Cultures, and Customs Stressed by Foreign Language Department

Examining examples of Mexican handicraft are Marilyn Iski and Russ Wichterman.

The paintings of all great artists are influenced to a certain extent by the culture and ideals of foreign lands, and a Portrait of a High School is no exception.

Providing this influence at LPHS is the Foreign Language Department. Offering three year courses in French and Spanish, this department strives not only to give students an opportunity to learn to speak another language, but also to learn something of the customs and cultures of our neighbors and allies. In this age when, by means of modern transportation methods such as jet airliners, the entire world is practically at your doorstep this proves very valuable as there are many excellent job opportunities for bi-linguists. In addition to this, those students who have studied a foreign language in high school also have an advantage when they enter college as most universities prefer students who have a knowledge of another idiom.

In the first year of a foreign language (Spanish 1-2, French 1-2) a student learns basic pronunciation, grammar, and comprehension. The second year courses become more technical in the study of grammar and pronunciation, while the third year courses are mainly conversational.

For example, each day the students in Spanish 5 and 6, taught by Mr. Kasky, are required to ask "una pregunta", a question, of another student in the class who must answer it using a complete, grammatically correct Spanish sentence. Another requisite of these classes, as well as Spanish 3 and 4 classes, is that each student is required to give one short speech in Spanish each card marking.

Mr. Kosky

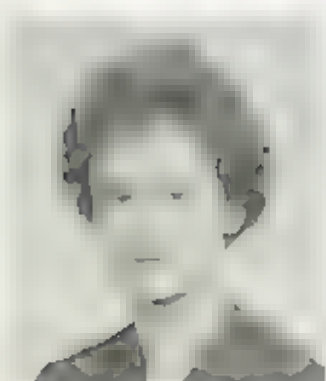

Mrs. Riedel

French classes are conducted in much the same way; however, French 5 and 6 students, taught by Mrs. Reidel, are required to do a term paper.

While learning a foreign language, students make use of many things besides text books. Among these are maps, film strips, foreign magazines and newspapers, and most important the language laboratory.

In this, a relatively new device for the teaching of a foreign language, students hear tapes recorded by native speakers and repeat what they hear into a microphone. Each person is able to hear his own replies and correct any mistakes which he might have made as the tape repeats itself. This practice is very valuable in gaining fluency in speaking and understanding a language as well as in perfecting a native accent.

Previously, LPHS had only a small language laboratory; and it was possible for only small groups of students to take advantage of this device at a time. Last summer, however, the old laboratory was taken out and a new, larger, and more modern one established in its place. Thus it is now possible for an entire class to enter at one time. Students are now able to spend more time in the laboratory and, in so doing, gain more practice in and a better understanding of their new language.

Providing the student body and faculty with one of the most efficient school facilities in the Detroit Metropolitan Area is the LPHS library that is designed to satisfy student needs in relation to courses offered.

In addition to its 11,000 books there is a wide selection of past and present magazine publications ranging from Hot Rod to Foreign Affairs Quarterly. A third outstanding feature of the library is the college room which provides information concerning major colleges in the nation and all colleges in Michigan.

Since the Library's establishment in 1959, it has expanded at a rate of 1,000 books per year. Because of the library's extensive use, fifty students gain rewarding experience by working as librarians. Along with the regular staff and Mrs. Conklin, supervisor of LPHS's librarial facilities, these helpers aid students and faculty by the convenient book check-out and providing them with references when needed.

Diversification Strived For By Fine Arts Department

Miss Karamaz

Mr. Stark

Most portraits of a high school begin with the architecture of the building and surroundings, but sometimes it goes a little deeper than that. Every need in a high school has to be given consideration as far as the students' needs are concerned.

Many student needs are fulfilled in the college preparatory courses, the commercial courses, or the industrial arts courses. Other students feel the need to work industriously with their hands with painting, with molding, and with different forms of art and craft.

For that reason, the Arts and Crafts Department provides the opportunity to fulfill many needs for many students as evidenced by the 240 students a semester who put arts or crafts into their curriculum.

Mrs. Wilcox

Mrs. Smith

Mrs. Campbell

As an artist paints with a brush, so must the drama and speech student develop poise and become well versed. Although unrelated to context, both courses develop and bring out a person's inner self. Both courses comprise a subdivision of the newly formed Fine Arts Department.

Every facet of the theatre is taught to the student which includes make-up, costumes, lighting, sound, set construction, scene painting, and props. For instance, while it may seem strange to see a boy with a needle and thread or sitting behind a sewing machine, each drama student develops skill in each section taught. In the week spent on scene painting, everyone painted a flat using the various techniques such as spattering, sponging, and flat painting. In addition, approximately two weeks are spent on acting and writing original scripts. To get a better understanding of how the theatre operates trips were held during the year to see live stage productions at the Wyndotte Community Theatre and the Fisher Theatre.

Major objectives for the student taking speech are to improve the communicative skills. This is accomplished as different phases of speaking are covered which include speech theory, extemporaneous speaking, oratorical interpretive radio theory, and debate. Mastery of such basics as impromptu, conducting interviews, giving formal speeches and writing up a news broadcast to be taped prepare each person for future life.

Extensive use by both drama and speech classes is made of the radio room. Drama classes record plays and radio programs plus recording sound effects for plays to be presented. Speech classes recorded news broadcasts and commercials, thus achieving a brief picture of the radio industry. Special classes were held for students wishing to become radio engineers to tape plays and broadcasts for speech and drama classes. Joining the ranks with ten boys the second semester was one girl.

Mathematics

Initiating LPHS students into the interesting, and often mystifying, world of numbers is the special task of the Mathematics Department. With a staff of eight teachers, and a wide range of varied courses, the student may progress from introductory classes in general math and algebra to more technical instruction in trigonometry and analytical geometry.

Heading the department is Mr. Wilcox. He is investigating the possibilities of a new and more challenging curriculum for advanced students, while considering the important job of preparing young people for a career without further education. The goal of the Mathematics Department is directed always toward using the logic of math to apply to daily life.

in Many Varied Activities

Under new command this year, the High School Band continued putting their best foot forward. Mr. Antonio Valladares, a former teacher at Huff Junior High and a trumpet player in the band during his years as a student at Lincoln Park High School, took over the reigns as band director mid-term of the fall semester.

During the football season, the marching band provided entertainment at half-time, exhibiting results of a successful summer at Interlochen National Music Camp. The last game of the season, they traveled to Wyandotte where they were invited to put on a pre-game exhibition.

With marching season over, the beginning of a busy concert schedule began. Many hours of concentrated practicing was in store for them as the concerts, parades, and graduations confronted them. Little did they dream of the wonderful experience of joining in the band contest in Livonia. This was a new adventure for even the "old" band members; although for comment only, great knowledge and enthusiasm to aspire to greater heights was gained by this experience.

Providing a pleasant shock, the complete marching band staged a grand finale to the Fine Art's production of Meredith Willson's "Music Man". An orchestra comprised of a portion of the advanced music students, in addition to the pep and assembly bands added to the enjoyment of participants in various school functions.

The annual candy sale was held in the fall, and Tag Day in the spring. To bring music culture to the city of Lincoln Park, this active group sponsored the Michigan State Concert Band. These activities helped to finance the new concert uniform jackets for the boys and dresses for the girls.

The highlight of the band year in the past was the week of strenuous work entwined with recreation at the National Music Camp in Interlochen, Michigan, but this summer, plans have been made to attend the Band Week on the Michigan State campus with five other bands instead.

Fine co-operation and enthusiasm combined to make 1964 another year to be remembered and cherished.

A coin is tossed, the call is made, the first tense moments of the 1963 Railsplitter season begins as co-captain Harold Merriam awaits the decision.

They all tried, but none succeeded. Each team had its chance to tangle with the Railsplitter Varsity Football team, only to find themselves outplayed and, for the most part, overpowered.

Lincoln Park played football with perfection and determination, sparked by rookie head-coach, Ron Pascuzzi. "We are not going out on the field with the attitude to lose," he said at the start of the season. And they never went onto the field with that attitude, nor did they come away from the field without having played their best. Most important of all, they never came away from the field defeated. They chalked up an impressive 8-0-1 won-lost-tied record for the season, while seriously challenging the Class A State Championship.

By not losing a game, the Railsplitters carry a record setting 17-game undefeated streak which Coach Pascuzzi hopes to add to next season. The way he handled the team last season (his first crack at the head-coaching job) leads many to believe that the best is yet to come. However, it must not be overlooked that much credit goes to the assistants, Mr. Brodie, Mr. Dean, and Mr. Holland for giving a great deal of time and effort for the betterment of the team.

Going with them into the next season will be the undisputed Huron-Rouge Championship, the Little Brown Jug, and their longest undefeated streak since 1955 when they won 11 consecutive games. The Parkers hope to keep all of these honors.

The Railsplitters kicked off the 1963 football season at Memorial Stadium on September 13, hosting their traditional rival, Fordson. Close to 5,000 fans turned out to watch the teams clash. It was, instead, a more one-sided game. Lincoln Park's outstanding defense held Fordson scoreless while a strong Railsplitter offense penetrated the opposition's goal line for three touchdowns (one of which was nullified because of a penalty) and for a safety when the Fordson punter was tackled in his own end zone. The game ended with LP holding a 15-0 margin, the debut of a new coach and an almost new team proved successful.

In their second non-conference game, the Parkers were equally outstanding. They downed Allen Park 12-0 on September 20, again preventing the opposition from denting LP's goal line.

Half time found the teams in a scoreless deadlock, but the Parkers took command during the second half when Dennis Brown plunged one yard for the first TD and passed to Mike La Framboise in the end zone for another, thus accounting for all the scoring in the game.

Ralph Schocki (85) snags a Dennis Brown aerial while a helpless Dearborn defender looks on.

Coach Ron Pascuzzi signifies the determination which led his team to an 8-0-1 record this season.

The high-flying Railsplitters captured their first league victory on September 27, against Ypsilanti. Though hampered by a series of costly penalties and challenged by several strong drives, LP managed to topple Ypsi 13-7.

An eight yard dash by Duayne Harper put the Railsplitters on the scoreboard early in the second period. LP scored again later in the same quarter on a 25 yard pass play from Dennis Brown to Jim Bourbeau. The extra point was good. A pass play by LP was nullified by a penalty while Ypsilanti managed to cross into the end zone with only two minutes left in the game, spoiling the Parker's bid for a third shut out.

Wayne proved to be the Railsplitter's next victim. They fell before the LP onslaught 20-7 at Memorial Stadium on October 4.

The Parkers intercepted five Wayne aeri-als, two by Jim Leichliter, while romping to their fourth victory of the season. A long 56 yard pass play from Dennis Brown to Bill Nix gave LP a 7-0 edge which Wayne managed to tie on a 60 yard dash into the end zone.

A golden chance and a grim challenge await fullback Terry Lewis as he prepares to evade a Pioneer defender.

Leichliter's interception set up the other two LP touchdowns. After the first one, Brown streaked 76 yards for a TD to put the Railsplitters ahead. On the second interception by Leichliter, the Parkers worked their way to the one yard line. From there, Steve Zajac dived into the end zone with only four minutes left in the game.

Next to challenge LP's undefeated status was Dearborn on October 11. It was a mild challenge as the Railsplitters downed the Pioneers 21-7 while picking up their fifth win of the season.

The Pioneers carried a slim 7-0 edge into the second half, but their bid for victory ended there. Harold Mermuys got LP rolling in the third period by intercepting a Dearborn pass at the 30 yard line. After pushing to the four, the Parkers scored on a sneak by Dennis Brown. Before the period was over, halfback Steve Zajac had made it 14-7 for LP on a 27 yard dash for a TD.

In the final period, Bill Nix weaved through the Pioneer's defense, and scamp-ered 61 yards for a TD to climax the Railsplitter scoring.

"And then there was darkness..." or so thought Richard Fitzpatrick and blocker Richard Ash(62).

After a slow start, LP powered its way to a 20-7 victory over Edsel Ford on October 18, in a jammed Memorial Stadium, and picked up its sixth straight victory.

The Thunderbirds scored first on a pass play for a 7-0 lead, but the Parkers completed a series of passes and moved the pigskin to within a few inches of the goal line. Bill Nix dived over for the TD. Duayne Harper made it 13-7 for the Railsplitters by snagging a 23 yard pass from Dennis Brown. Larry Chodnicki wrapped up the scoring for the Parkers on a six yard sprint into the end zone.

Close to 6,000 fans turned out for the Lincoln Park-Melvindale game on October 25. It was the last league game of the season, and both teams boasted equal 4-0 records in league competition. The winner would be the Huron-Rouge League Champion. The Railsplitters walked away with the game by trampling the Card's offense and defense for a 34-0 triumph, thus giving them not only the league crown, but also the Little Brown Jug for the sixth consecutive season.

Bill Nix (dark jersey) finds the going a little rough in the season's opener against Fordson.

With the game barely seven minutes old, Steve Zajac put the Parkers on the scoreboard with a three yard plunge over the goal line. The Card's attempt to retaliate came to a sudden halt on the LP 20 which is as close as they ever got.

In the third quarter, Dennis Brown scored on a quarterback sneak. A TD run by Mike La Framboise in the final period ended the scoring and left the Parkers with the league crown for the fifth straight time.

Many proud fathers witnessed a triumphant climax to Lincoln Park's 1963 homestand as the Railsplitters walloped Grosse Pointe 39-7 on November 1, Fathers' Night.

Dennis Brown led the Parker's attack with two touchdown romps, and passed for two additional ones. The junior quarterback picked up 214 yards in passing and running.

Jim Lechlitter (34) takes the end route behind Jim Bourbeau (80) for big yardage.

"And then there was light..." as Railsplitters (l-r) Terry Lewis, Mike Labadie, George Sam, Harold Mermuy's, and Bill Keller overtake an unlucky halfback and demonstrate the defense that limited all opponents to a total of 35 points.

Speed dominated the Railsplitters offensive might and led to the Parkers 174 points during their 1963 campaign. Here quarterback Dennis Brown (10) scampers behind Brown's first TD came on an eight yard burst in the first period. Grosse Pointe tied it up 7-7 early in the second quarter, but Brown put LP ahead minutes later on a 12 yard sprint. Later, Mike La Framboise scrambled 80 yards for a TD. Less than a minute later, the Railsplitters tallied again on a 37 yard TD toss from Brown to Dennis Long, thus giving the Parkers a 26-7 halftime lead.

With less than two minutes left in the third quarter, Dennis Long scored again on a 10 yard pass from Brown. LP wrapped up the scoring with 50 seconds left in the game on a one yard plunge by Bill Nix.

The Railsplitter's strong bid for the Class A State Championship was foiled by Wyandotte Roosevelt in the final game of the season which was played on Roosevelt Field on November 8. A stadium packed with fans watched the two teams battle to a scoreless tie, neither capable of breaking through the strong defensive lines.

Statistically, the Parkers won the game by gaining 140 yards to Wyandotte's 66. Dennis Brown completed 8 of 16 passes for 118 yards in the air. Wyandotte was never able to get closer than 44 yards to LP's goal line, while the Railsplitters managed to push to the 15. Terry Lewis sparked the LP defensive while playing his finest game of the season.

Twice the Parkers almost scored, but each time the officials ruled that the catch was made out of bounds. In the first attempt end Ralph Sobocki grabbed a zone.

blockers (L-R) Jim Lechlitter, Terry Lewis (54), Ralph Sohocki (85), Pat Delaney (63), and Bill Keller (50) for long yardage against the Pioneers of Deerborn.

In a later attempt, Brown again tagged Sohocki with a 25 yard pass, but it was ruled that Sohocki stepped out of bounds at the two-yard line while snagging Brown's pass.

Statistics

Quarterback Dennis Brown piled up an impressive statistical record for his junior year of football. In 52 attempts at carrying the pigskin, he gained 351 yards for a 6.8 average on each carry. In the air, Brown picked up 642 yards in passing, thus completing 39 of 96 attempts for a 16.5 average. The junior quarterback threw seven touchdown passes and made it into the end zone six times for a season total of 36 points as well as picking up a total of 993 yards for the season.

Team co-captains, Bill Nix and Duayne Harper, both seniors, had fine seasons. Nix picked up a total of 677 yards on the ground. In the air, he snagged six aerals for 173 yards. He scored a total of 50 points, making six TDs and kicking 14 extra points in 22 attempts. Harper gained 303 yards in 60 tries for a five yard average on each carry and made it into the end zone twice. He also did a fine job as defensive right halfback.

Steve Zajac and Mike La Framboise compiled 330 yards. Zajac gained 161 yards, while La Framboise picked up 169. Zajac snagged six passes during the season and managed to score three TDs. La Framboise was named "Most Improved" for the year.

He moved the pigskin 149 yards in 14 tries for a 10.6 yard average on each carry. He picked up 20 yards passing and made the longest run of the season with 80 yards on one play.

Ralph Sohocki, junior end, grabbed seven passes for 120 yards and a touchdown. Another junior end, Dennis Long, snagged six passes for 187 yards and three TDs. Teammate Jim Bourbeau, a senior end, caught seven aerials for 140 yards and a touchdown.

The Railsplitters boasted a defensive record of shutting out four of their opponents and allowing only one touchdown in each of the other five games. This gave the opposition a mere 35 points for the entire season, and gave the Parkers the best defensive line in the state. Harold Mermuys and Terry Lewis headed LP's powerful defense, and were aided by Richard Karbowski, Richard Fitzpatrick, Mike Labodie, Dennis Buza, Bill Swinea, Duayne Harper, Dennis Long, Jim Leichliter, and Jim Bourbeau.

Lincoln Park's offensive line proved that even though they weren't big, they could take care of themselves. No matter how big the opponent's defense the Railsplitter's offense pushed on and picked up 174 points for the season.

From last season's 41-man team, the Parkers will lose 17 players because of graduation. Those having played their last season are tackles Dennis Buza, Jose Guerra, and Manuel Gonzales; Duayne Harper and Jim Leichliter in the fullback spots; halfbacks Bill Nix, Mike La Framboise, Larry Chodnicki, Ron Nanney, and Warren Hruska; Mike Whitney, quarterback; Terry McMillan and Jim Bourbeau in the end spots; and Darrell Mayne and Ron Wingate who played guards.

"Neither rain, nor snow, nor sleet can stop him, but the Railsplitter defense can." Holding their opponents to a mere 35 points during the season qualified the park-ers as having one of the best defenses in the state.

End Terry McMillan(86) finds the footing a little rough and the ball a little slippery with a Melvindale defender lodged about his hips.

Bringing honor to Lincoln Park for their fine efforts last season on the gridiron were four players. Harold Memuys, who was named last season's "Most Valuable Player", was named to the All-Suburban Team and to the All-Huron-Rouge League Team to which Bill Nix, Terry Lewis, and Dennis Brown were also named. Nix and Lewis were also picked to the All-West Area Team.

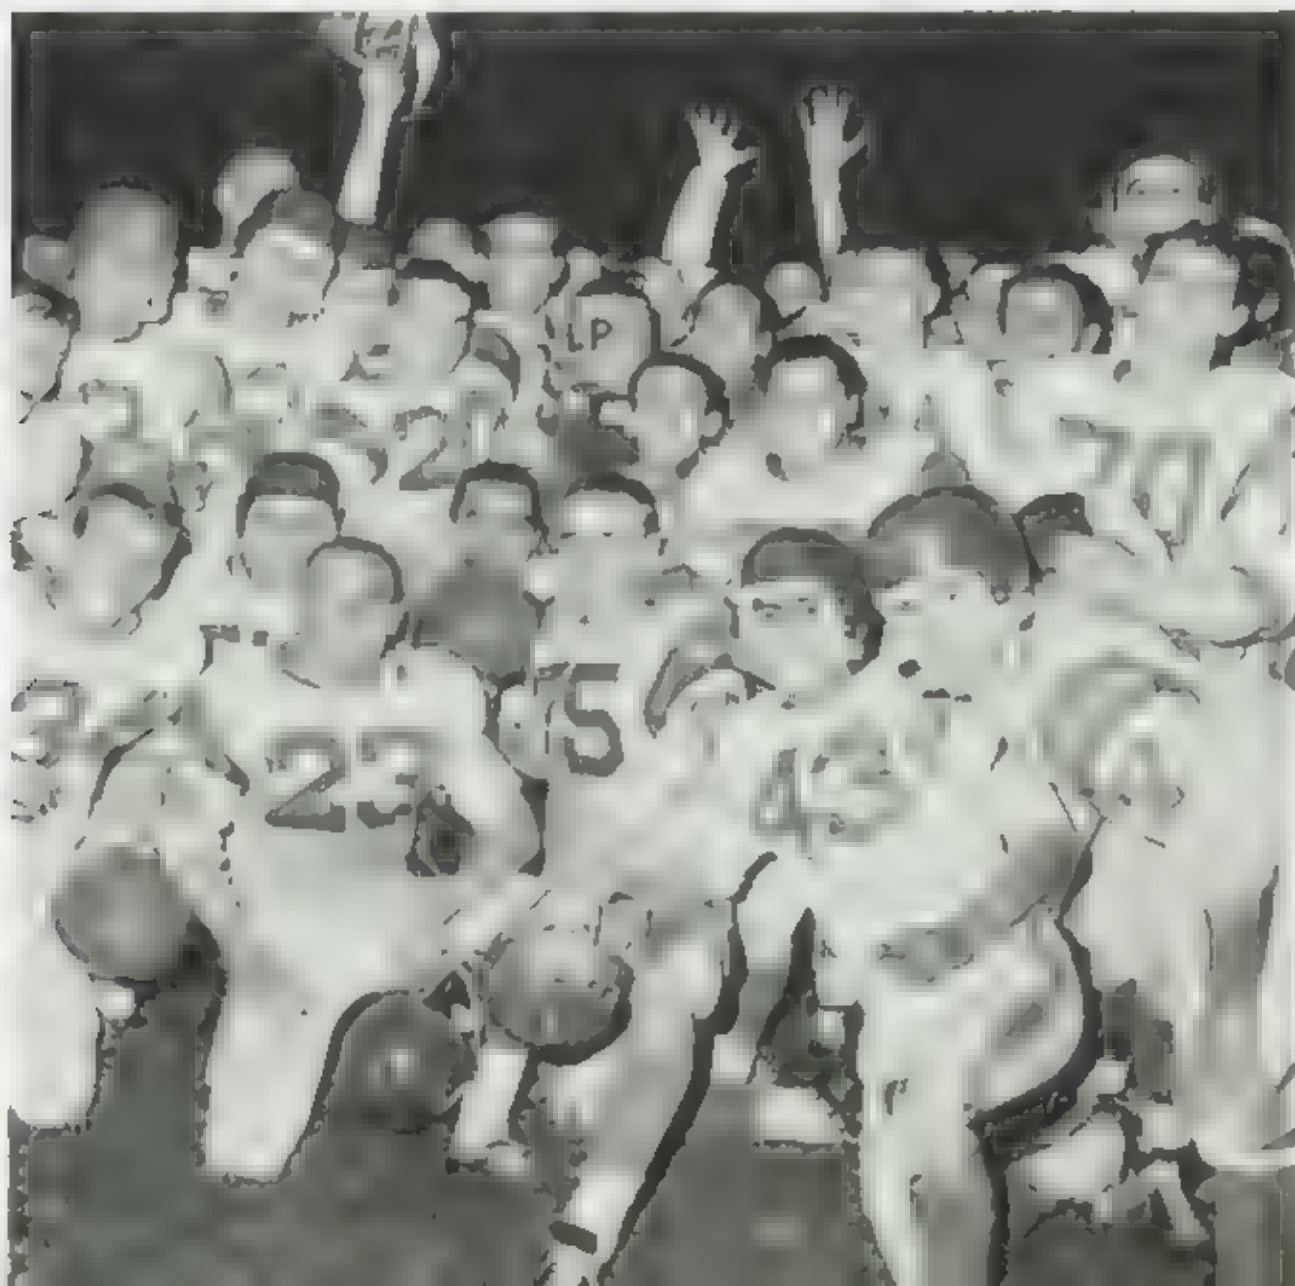

The competition was rough, but so were the Railsplitters. They tried their best and earned every victory by playing the game the way it was meant to be played, a way which was a pleasure and often a thrill to watch. They brought respect and recognition not only to themselves, but to the whole school, and they made the 1963 season one which will not soon be forgotten.

Contributing to Lincoln Park's 35-0 onslaught of Grosse Pointe is end Jim Borbeau (80).

LP Sprints to Huron-Rouge Title

Domination of the powerful Huron-Rouge Conference proved an easy task for the '63 edition of the Lincoln Park Cross-Country team under the direction of Mr. Burnie, Coach. The harriers compiled a 10-1 won-lost record for the dual meet season. The only defeat came off the hands of Wyandotte which succeeded in being sixth in the state meet.

As the season opened, Allen Park proved no difficulty. LP took the first five to slam their initial opponent and set the trend for the rest of the campaign. Next to fall was Ypsilanti, last years' unbeatable team. Again the thinclads swept the first five spots to destroy Ypsi 15-45. Monroe was expected to provide the first competition, but this never occurred as the harriers crushed the Monroe team 20-38.

The course record was broken when the Thunderbirds of Edsel Ford were eliminated 19-39. The next meet was a non-league encounter, but this did not slow down the harriers as they humiliated Thurston 18-37. The season was half over and LP was 5-0. Melvindale was next to be defeated by the thin-clads. Riverview, a perennial class B champion, faltered as LP sprinted past them 19-49.

For the eighth straight time, Lincoln Park scored 20 or less points as the Pioneers of Dearborn were pushed out of contention for the league title 18-49. Then the improbable happened when the harriers were nosed out by Wyandotte as Chuck Pacheco, the first LP runner, finished fourth.

The cross-country boys wrapped up the dual meet season by dropping Wayne 18-44. River Rouge proved nothing but a warmup for the league meet as they were defeated 22-35.

Mastery of the proper technique for running a hill gives Russ Modlin a lead over three Dearborn runners.

Chuck Pacheco, Bill Huppenbauer, and Jim Mitchell display LP's meet-winning teamwork.

As the race enters its closing stages, the excitement mounts as Croitori, Pacheco, and Mitchell hold an advantageous position.

At the league meet, Wayne made a determined effort to knock the harriers from their undisputed Huron-Rouge crown. A Wayne first and a Lincoln Park second would have tied the Zebras with LP for the championship.

As the race began, Nading of Edsel Ford took the lead for a one and three quarter miles, but then Croitori turned on his patented finishing kick to erase the Edsel Ford runner's thoughts of first. Chuck Pacheco and Fred Smith battled it out behind George for the third and fourth spots. Jim Mitchell, sprinted in to an eighth place finish. Bill Huppenbauer completed the team scoring with a thirteenth place final. When the totals were in, LP had 29 while their nearest opponent, Dearborn, had 47.

The Lincoln Park team missed qualifying for the state meet by finishing third in the Regional competition. LP scored 88 points, enough usually to qualify for state competition. This year, however, proved a different story as Wyandotte and Ann Arbor, received the honors.

George Croitori and Jim Mitchell qualified for the state meet. At the Albion Invitational, the team could do no better than third with 117 points.

The Junior Varsity lost their first meet since 1961 as the Wayne reserves dropped them 27-28. The winning streak had encompassed twenty-seven consecutive meets. The LP reserves compiled a 10-1 record for the season.

George Croitori notched an amazing record of ten first place finishes plus a first in the league meet. Croitori added to his memorable performances by tying the school record of 9:58 at Gregory Park on November 11.

The team will have a hard time filling the shoes of graduating seniors: George Croitori, Chuck Pacheco, Jim Mitchell, Fred Smith, Jerry Burd, Lonnie Von Renner, and Mike Dobson.

Fred Smith starts his finishing sprint to the urging of the spectators.

LP Tankers Repeat as Huron-Rouge Swim Champs

LP topped the Huron-Rouge league for the fourth time in 1963-64 as the Parkers swimming and diving team copped the swim championship with a clutch effort in the league meet. The tankers sported a 7-9 overall record. A powerful finish in the Huron-Rouge league meet overcome their 4-4 league record and vaulted them into first place.

The Parkers journeyed to Monroe to open the season and absorbed their first loss 59-41, but the tankers got off on the right foot for league competition as they dropped Wayne 65-36. The Grosse-Pointe meet proved to be a cliff hanger when the meet went down to the final event. The Pointers managed a first and second in the 100 breaststroke to insure the victory at 53-52. Jim Robeson set a record of 1:00.4 in the 100 Backstroke.

Determined to overcome this narrow defeat, the tankers crushed Allen Park 61-44 on LP's home ground.

Again the Parkers felt the sting of a one point loss as Wyandotte won a 53-52 decision. Wyandotte took the freestyle relay by .2 of a second to insure a victory. In their second league encounter, Dearborn won 65-40 to set the Parkers at 1-1 for league play. One week later Edsel Ford overcame Robeson's 59.8 in the 100 backstroke to win at 59-42.

When Thurston, with their state ranked Ken Wiebeck came to LP, there was no relief in sight for the Parkers, as Wiebeck set two records as Thurston romped to a 70-35 victory.

Ypsi proved no contest as LP won 63-41. Against Trenton the tankers felt the good end of a 53-52 victory. Garv Cooke led the way with his 4:33.3 record for the 400 freestyle as the Parkers knocked off Wayne for the second time, 67-38.

For the fourth time a meet went down to the final event, this time it was Riverview who scored the victory at 53-52. Ron Ferriby set a 100 yard butterfly record of 59.4.

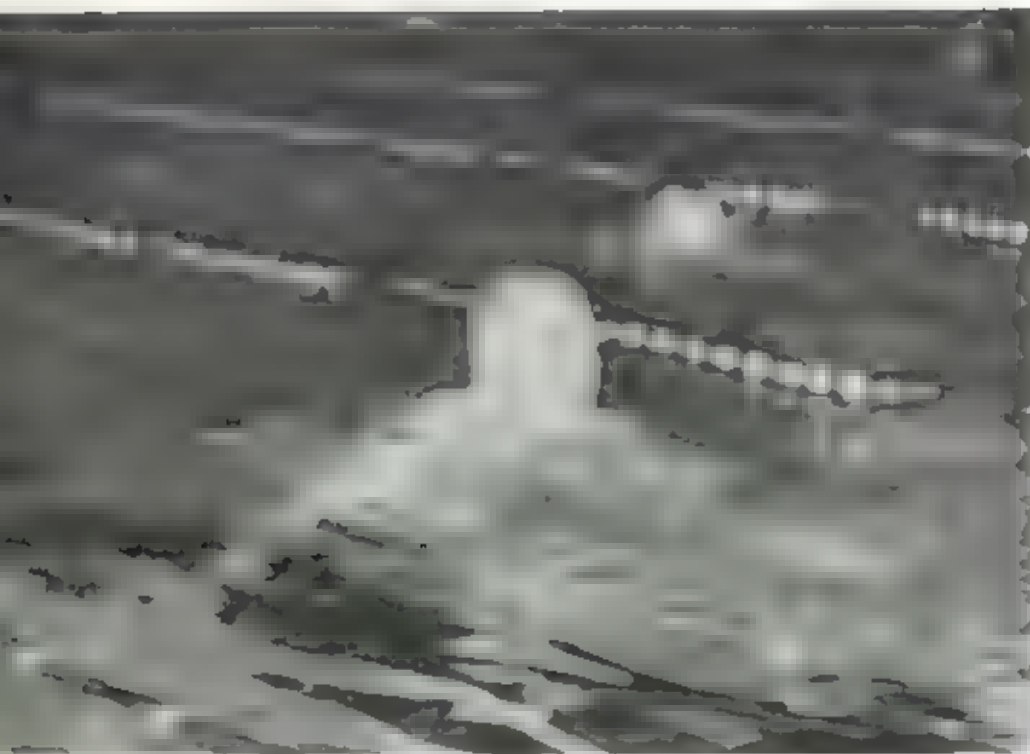

Robeson broke his own record for the second time. His 59 time for the 100 yard backstroke was to no avail as Royal Oak Kimball took the victory 67-38. The tankers got back on their winning ways by overcoming a powerful Dearborn squad, 59-46. Ferriby again broke his own record. Robeson added another in the 100 yard individual medley.

Jim Robeson leads the way for LP in the breast stroke.

Edsel Ford scored their second victory against LP with a 55-50 victory at the T-Birds pool. Ypsi proved to be a warmup for the league meet as they were knocked out 75-26.

Lincoln Park scored 89½ points in the league meet to Dearborn's 71½ for their second spot. The Parkers needed a first with Edsel Ford third to capture the Huron-Rouge crown. The Parkers ran away from the field as Dearborn nosed out Edsel Ford to give LP the crown.

Jim Robeson and Mike Delaney get "into the swim of it" at the start of the 100 yard butterfly.

Looking back Robeson had set two records, a 2:17.9 for the 200 yard individual medley, and lowered his 100 yard backstroke record to 59. Ferriby covered the 100 butterfly in 58.3 for a third new record. Cook had his say with a 4:33.3, 400 yard freestyle. These three record breakers will be back next year as the tankers look forward to an even better season.

Thus far, the Railsplitters had accumulated 27 points in their bid for the all sports trophy. This means that a total of eight points were needed in the spring sports; baseball, track, and tennis, to bring that award to Lincoln Park for the first time.

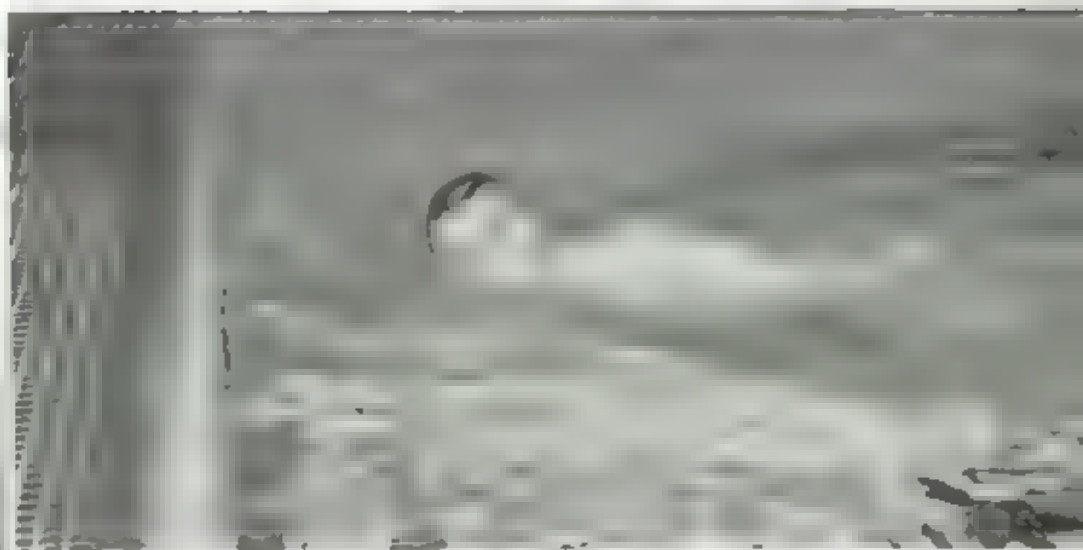

Waiting for the gun is Mike Delaney.

Terry Lewis turns in another sparkling performance for LP in the heavyweight division.

Wrestlers Finish with 8-4 Mark

Enjoying their most successful season since the sport was first introduced here 4 years ago, the Lincoln Park Wrestlers finished the 63-64 season with an 8-4 won-lost mark and a fourth place finish in the Huron Rouge League.

Dennis Mc Cofferty wrestles his competitor to the mat for another victory.

The Parkers were under the guidance of a new coach, Mr. Dennis Laurain, who took over the post vacated by former Railsplitter football and wrestling coach Bob Lusk.

The grapplers opened up the campaign with a 34-16 drubbing of Redford Union. A pin was secured by John Tripp against his rival while teammates Steve Zajac, Richard Ashe, Terry Lewis and Don May dumped their opponents, at the Trenton Tournament, firsts were awarded to Harold Mermuys in the 180 pound class and Terry Lewis in the heavyweight division.

Victories were next recorded against River Rouge, Flat Rock, and Southgate. In the 29-17 triumph over Southgate, Don May set a new school record, pinning his competitor in 13 seconds.

The Railsplitters next dropped decisions to perennial state champs Ypsilanti, Edsel Ford, and Dearborn but downed Fordson 35-13. In the Fordson encounter, pins were secured by John Tripp and Dennis McCafferty while decisions were awarded to Bob Threlhoff, Joe Behr, Rich Ashe, Steve Zajac, and Harold Mermuys.

The Parkers dropped another meet to Trenton, but came back to down Melvindale, Allen Park, and Livonia Franklin for late season victories. Winners in the league meet were Steve Zajac in the 154 pound class and Terry Lewis in the heavyweight division. Steve Zajac turned in another fine performance at the regional meet, winning the 154 pound class honors while teammate Richard Ashe copped the 145 pound division title.

Parkers Capture Crowns to Cap 16-3 Season

As the boy David once slew the mighty giant Goliath, so did this year's Railsplitter courtmen strike down many a formidable opponent despite their apparent lack of height. Combining pin-point accuracy in their shooting with a balanced offense led the Lincoln Park hardwood boys to an award-winning 16-3 won-lost record this season, and the best record ever boasted by a Railsplitter squad. Attaining a 9-1 record in league play helped the Parkers win their third Huron-Rouge Valley Championship since 1959.

The season opener saw Lincoln Park pitted against Allen Park in a non-league duel. During the first half, the lead see-sawed back and forth as the Parkers led 11-10 at the quarter and 19-14 at the half. Sparked by Jim Bourbeau's 18 points the LP courtmen finally pulled ahead and held a 73-64 lead as the final buzzer sounded.

In the second pre-league contest, the Railsplitter's balanced offense made the difference as Jim Leichter sank 16, Jim Bourbeau 14, and Hershel Long 11 to take an 82-61 decision from the Wyandotte Bears. Leading at the half 35-31 and at the end of the third quarter 54-45, the Parkers poured on 28 points in the final period to insure their victory.

In their first league game Lincoln Park was matched against Wayne at the home court. The lead shuttled back and forth between the two Huron-Rouge powers as Wayne led 20-17 at the quarter, Lincoln Park coming back to lead 41-32 at the half. But a second half surge by the Zebras resulted in a narrow 73-71 winning margin for them despite a 23 point onslaught by forward Rich Flateau.

Aroused by their defeat the Parkers came back to stun Edsel Ford 62-45 in another league contest. The Railsplitters took an early lead, ahead 27-20 at the half and 43-46 at the end of three quarters. Outscoring the T-Birds 19-9 in the final period made for a decisive victory behind Bela Sarkett's season high of 20 points.

The River Rouge Christmas Tournament

Taking time out from their regular season, the Parkers began the Rouge Tournament play at River Rouge which had a familiar ending for the Railsplitter squad.

In the first match, Lincoln Park took an easy 73-49 decision from Riverview, Jim Bourbeau winning scoring honors with 21 points. The Parkers grabbed an early lead, ahead 19-7 at the quarter and 34-27 at the midpoint of the game. Sinking 39 points to the Pirates' 22 in the second half capped the victory for the Railsplitters.

The second game of the tournaments saw Lincoln Park engaged in a see-saw duel with a stubborn Monroe team. Ahead 15-12 at the quarter, and behind 26-23 at the half the LP courtmen finally took a dominating edge to win 51-45. Hershel Long led the Railsplitters with 20 points.

The final game of the series saw Lincoln Park play perennial Class B champs River Rouge. Rouge's superior height and play proved the determining factor in the contest as they took an early lead, winning 35-27 at the half and 74-48 as the game ended.

Returning to their regular schedule the Railsplitters met the Dearborn Pioneers in their third league contest. Another balanced scoring attack led by Jim Leichliter (17), Bob Dottel (17), and Hershel Long (16) provided the Parkers with a 74-52 victory over Dearborn. The win marked the beginning of an eleven game winning streak for the Lincoln Park courtmen.

In their next event, the Railsplitters lashed Ypsilanti with 86 points for a victory and a school record. The Parkers completely dominated the first three quarters of scoring, leading 67-46, and held on during the final period to attain an 86-68 victory. Rich Flateau and Jim Leichliter led the Railsplitter scoring with 22 points each.

Melvindale was next to fall to Lincoln Park. Although they led the Parkers throughout the first half, a 27 point scoring effort by the Railsplitters in the second half outdistanced the 16 points accumulated by Melvindale in the same period, as the Parkers brought home another victory, winning 51-42.

With more than the usual amount of spectator's interest, the Mom's of this year's Railsplitters anxiously await the outcome of the game which the Parkers won from Ypsi 86-68.

Determined to keep Wayne from making a repeat victory, the Parkers unfurled a 98 point barage on the Zebras, breaking the school scoring record for the second time in two weeks and also Wayne's hopes of winning the game. Every Parker saw action in the 98-54 rout of Wayne in which Jim Leichter won scoring honors collecting 22 points, followed by Hershel Long with 17.

The following week Lincoln Park ventured to the Edsel Ford gymnasium where they sailed to a 63-38 victory over the T-Birds. Edsel Ford was held to a mere 4 points in the first quarter and had 11 at the half, as all the Railsplitters again saw action.

Triggered by Hershel Long's 21 points and Jim Bourbeau's 20, Lincoln Park soared to a 56-42 victory over Dearborn. The victory insured the Railsplitters of at least a tie in the Huron-Rouge Championship.

Again Lincoln Park's balanced scoring attack made for an easy 81-60 victory over Ypsilanti. Bela Sarekett and Ralph Sochocki combined for 35 points in the contest in which all the Railsplitters saw action.

The Parkers poured on 25 points in the first quarter and 17 more in the second to lead 42-31 at the half. Outscoring the Braves 30-29 in the second half insured the Lincoln Park courtmen of their win.

Having insured themselves of the league crown, the Parkers lessened the pace somewhat in their final league game of the season with Melvindale. Scoring remained close in the first half as the Parkers led 14-12 at the end of the first quarter, and found themselves behind 30-28 at the end of the half. The stubborn Melvindale squad remained within three points of Lincoln Park, behind 42-39 at the end of the third period, but lost by a score of 51-50 even though they outscored the Railsplitters 11-9 in the final quarter.

Having thus won their third Huron-Rouge crown, the Lincoln Park hardwood boys began the post-season tournament play meeting Allen Park in the Lincoln Park gymnasium. The Jaguars dominated the first half of play, ahead 20-19 at the end of the first quarter and 44-29 at the half. A great come-back effort by the Parkers resulted in an 81-76 victory for them as they scored 52 points to Allen Park's 32 in the second half. Rich Flatau canned 20 points for the Parkers, followed by Hershel Long with 19 and Jim Borbeau with 16.

The Parkers maintained their lead throughout the game ahead 38-23 at the half and winning by a score of 76-62. Ralph Sochocki netted 17 points for the Railsplitters while Hershel Long had 16.

In the all-important battle for the district championship Lincoln Park met a tough Ecorse team. The Parkers led 20-14 at the end of the first quarter, but a 25 point barage by Ecorse put them behind 39-35 at the Half. Outscoring Ecorse 43-27 in the second half.

Schafer was next on the Railsplitter schedule as the two teams clashed to decide who would play Ecorse for the district title. Lincoln Park got off to a quick start leading 19-5 at the end of the first quarter, provided the Railsplitters with a 78-66 win, and brought the Class A District trophy home to Lincoln Park. Jim Bourbeau captured scoring honors with 24 points.

In their final game of the season Lincoln Park's courtmen found their match in a tall, tough Monroe squad. The Trojans took a half-time lead of 35-23. The Railsplitters were unable to overcome the deficit and found themselves on the short end of the 75-57 final tally. Bela Sarkett and Jim Bourbeau each had 14 points to lead the losers.

"Somewhere men are laughing and little children shout
But there is no joy in Mudville great Casey has struck out."

These immortal words written by Ernest Thayer marked the downfall of baseball in Mudville, but cannot be associated with Lincoln Park High. Since the first Parker team entered the Twin Valley Association under Mr. Thomas Couzzo, and later joined the Huron Rouge League in 1954 the Parkers have copped 13 pennants.

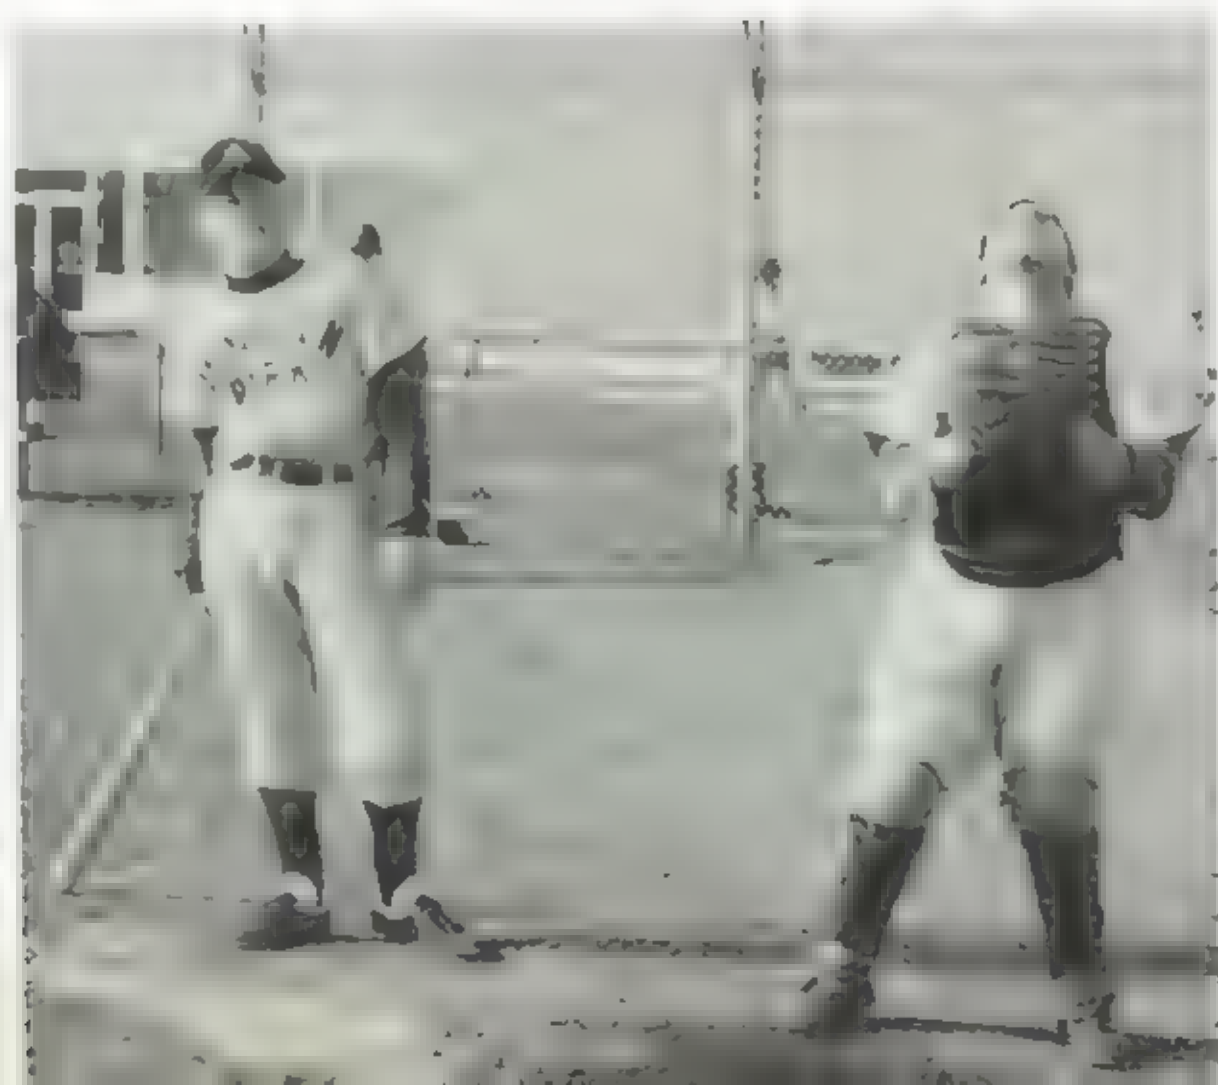

The 1964 Railsplitters did nothing to spoil their baseball-rich heritage. Lead by Ron Nanney, a three year veteran; Jim Bourbeau also three years on the team; and Steve Zajac a two year man on the mound, the Splitters had their usual fine pitching. The pressure was reduced on the LP hurlers by a sure handed infield which included Phil Hudson and Allen Stevers, both four year men, Gary Szalka, Ron Charnocki, and Terry Lewis.

Improved Cindermen Push In League Race

Fortified with talent from LP's championship cross-country team of last fall, the Railsplitter track squad of 1964 was greatly improved.

The team, some 65 members strong, started workouts in January at the Lincoln Park fieldhouse under the close supervision of Coach Elmer Burnie. Supplementing the indoor workouts was an intramural track program, which gave the Parkers both competitive experience and a chance to improve their performances in preparation for the Huron-Rouge League competition which began in April.

Competing in the 100 and 220 yard dashes for LP were Co-Captain Bill Nix, Steve Vitale, Bob Greenwood, Ken Venier, and Vince Richardson. Bolstering the squad in the 440 yard dash were Bill Anderson, Vince Pacheco, and Dennis Snider, while John Saputo, Russ Modlin, Vince Duncan, Steve Berger, Terry Macmillan, and Jack Smoot represented the Railsplitter efforts in the half-mile.

Turning in equally fine performances as their teammates in the running events were the boys taking part in the field events. Ace high jumpers were Jim Baker, Dennis Snider and Gary Ball, while in the shot put, Dave Workman and Larry Decker continued their winning ways.

Broad jumpers included Bill Nix, Dennis Snider, Jerry Rompel, Bob Greenwood and Vince Richardson. In the pole vault, Ralph Terry, Jim Howard, Ken Venier, Steve Montroy, Lewis Rakay and Don Busen contributed their services.

Although some improvement is needed, this year's squad showed signs of being one of Lincoln Park's best, with an greater potential for next season.

In the mile run, a strong group composed of Co-Captain George Croitor, Fred Smith, Bill Huppenbauer, Mike Busen and Joe Cotellesse took top honors. Leading in the high and low hurdles were Ken Hanna, Ralph Sulek and Jerry Rompel, while depth was added by sophomores Ralph Le Blanc, Larry Pisan, Bill Alexander, Lewis Rakey and Steve Montroy.

Returning to the courts with the toughest schedule ever boasted by Railsplitter squads, this year's courtmen had fierce competition from top ranked Hamtramck, Monroe, and Dearborn squads. Five of last year's varsity netters returned to strengthen Lincoln Park's hopes of ending Dearborn High's twenty year domination of the Huron Rouge title. They were seniors Curt Putizag and Tom Janoski, and juniors Bill Hensely, John Rothenberger, and Jim Vaughn.

In 1962, Coach Bob Sassack began his duties as tennis coach at LPHS. His first year team finished with a respectable 9-8 record. Last year's courtmen showing a marked improvement, finished with a sound 15-3 record. Losing twice to the Pioneers and once to Edsel Ford, they had to settle for second place behind perennial champs Dearborn.

Homecoming-----1963

In order that this portrait will appeal to those, who see it, an artist will almost inevitably include within his work of art an element of beauty. So it is with a portrait of a high school.

The painter would ordinarily find it difficult to include beauty in his portrait of something as solid and masterful as a high school. In this case, however, tradition lends valuable assistance by providing him with the glamour and pageantry of homecoming.

Last season LPHS students came to Memorial Stadium to witness the highlight of the football season--the crowning at half-time of the 1963 homecoming queen, Ruth Ann Nichols. Indeed, it was a memorable occasion for her as she received her crown from Carol Webster, Lincoln Park's 1962 homecoming queen.

Sitting regally upon her throne with a dozen roses in her arms, the queen was presented to her subjects. The float, upon which it is every girls' dream to ride, was decorated with pink and green flowers, and, as an additional note of beauty, displayed a large crown behind the queen's throne.

Further enhancing the scene were Connie Carroll, Connie Ferris, Marlene Tury, and Mary Jane Vonderhaar, members of Miss Nichol's court.

During the half-time festivities, the Majorettes and Band members performed for the entertainment of the student body.

However, the excitement of this gala affair did not end after the game had been played. Quite to the contrary, it had only just begun. The finale came the following evening when her majesty reigned over a ball held in her honor in the school cafeteria.

Dressed in formal gowns, Miss Nichols and her four attendants made their appearance at the dance escorted by Lonnie Von Renner, Richard Flateau, Gene Coker, Tom Bousamara, and Bob Axford.

Although the homecoming was an enjoyable event, there was much preparation responsible for its success. Miss Rose Gadigan, physical education teacher, devoted many hours of work and planning toward making the 1963 homecoming one of the most successful that Lincoln Park has ever had.

Many students come to honor the 1963 Homecoming Queen at a ball held in her honor.

In the composition of a portrait an artist is often hampered because paint and pencil allow him to capture only the physical aspects of his surroundings. The chorus room for example would make an extremely dull subject for an artist's canvas. Composed of windowless walls and thick wooden doors, it may resemble a cold cell. These seemingly cold and lonely walls though have often been warmed by the cheerfulness of song and surrounded by the raised voices of the Robed Choir, Girls Choruses, Glee Club, and Boys Chorus. This room has seen numerous rehearsals. Each nook or dark corner could tell of concert practices, contest and frantic preparations for the big musical. The winter and spring concerts, the Christmas Caroling Marathon and Musical Banquet programs have all been prepared here. These prison like doors have patiently opened year after year to send forth numerous graduating seniors, and to accept new members. Each person who joins a choral group though never passes through the chorus doors without a little regret and great treasury of memories.

The choruses are an important part of Lincoln Park High's activities, and operated by Mr. Judd the chorus room has become the center of Music song and laughter, qualities both the artist and the journalist find hard to capture.

The Choral Department Presents

Professor Harold Hill (Lorne Van Renner) arrives in River City just in the nick of time to warn the local citizens of the fact that they have "trouble".

THE MUSIC MAN

Picture a small mid-western town, River City, Iowa, in the year 1912. The "stubborn" Iowans have made plans for a Fourth of July celebration—add a touch of beauty by a pretty librarian, Marion Paroo, of whom it is said, "Just melt her down and you'll reveal a lump of lead as cold as steel. Here! where a woman's heart should be!" put the finishing touches on by the town's Mayor Shinn, who had recently built a pool table in the community. This is the portrait of Meredith Willson's "Music Man", the musical presented by the Fine Arts Department of Lincoln Park High School.

The fourth annual play was under the combined direction of Mr. Richard Judd, vocal music instructor; Mr. Antonio Valladares, band director; and Mrs. Barbara Wilcox, drama teacher. Mr. John Friend, the stage technician, handled the technical aspects of the performance. Over 100 students used their talents to make the show the success that it was.

Mr. Willson's show was a story about a fast talking, dishonest salesman, Professor Harold Hill (Tom Bou-samara and Lonnie Von Renner), who came to River City to sell musical instruments, uniforms, and instruction books. His purpose, supposedly, was to organize a boy's band. The music man's usual routine was changed when he realized his former partner, Marcellus Washburn (Tom Brewer), lived in the town. He was the only one who knew Hill could not read a note. This minor factor did not worry Harold. "I have a revolutionary new method called the 'Think System' where you don't bother with notes." Marcellus was still cautious; however, "But in four weeks the people will want to hear music! You'll have to lead a band." Hill had everything figured out. "But when the uniforms, arrive, they forget everything else—at least long enough for me to collect and leave. Oh this is a refined operation, son, and I've got it timed right down to the last wave of the brakeman's hand on the last train out'a town..''

Indeed it was a refined operation. Hill aroused the town about the harm a pool table could cause. The people came alive with the excitement of having a boy's band. Only Marion the librarian (Sheryl Macauley and Jeanne Englehart), Mayor Shinn (Mike LaFramboise), and the school board (Charles Jackson, John Lawson, Peter Streiber, and Doug Peterson) tried to find out the legitimacy of Professor Hill's enterprise. Everytime the board asked the salesman about his credentials, they were eluded into singing and forgot about their duties. Similarly, the mayor was fast talked into postponing his deed.

Marion had a brother named Winthrop who moped around after his father's death. He spoke very little because of his lisp. Professor Hill gave Winthrop a desire to belong by putting him in the band and by giving him the companion-

Marion was so overjoyed at her brother's change that her feelings for Hill also changed— she fell in love with him. She knew he was a fraud but did not turn him in. A traveling salesman, Charlie Colewell (Mark Gambino), came to town and exposed the professor. Marion tried to help him get away, but he would not run because for the first time in his life, his "Foot was caught in the door." He was arrested and brought before the River City citizens. The town was planning to tar and feather him until a band actually appeared. It played-or tried to play- "Minuet in G." The proud people were excited about their children's performance and did not press charges. The show ended as the Lincoln Park High School Marching Band marched down the auditorium aisles playing "Seventy Six Trombones". It was a thrilling conclusion for a great play.

Supporting roles were handled skillfully by those who played them. Few will forget Kathie Beauvais as Eulalie Mackecknie Shinn, the mayor's wife. Her girations as the leader of the pick-a-little ladies made one feel as if they had known her all their lives. Jan Marsai played the loveable Mrs. Paroo, Marion's mother, who was so worried about her daughters marital status that she used the "Think System" on her and it worked. As the teenage daughter of Mayor Shinn, Zaneeta, (Sue Reynolds) had her father concerned about her friendship with the town ruffian, Tommy Djilas (Hubert Eperson). Mary George, Pat Ball, Judy Carney, and Ruth Taipala were the leading pick-a-little ladies.

The novelty of the musical was enhanced by the costuming props, and scenery. The clothes of the early 1900's were very colorful. Six Iowa newspapers appeared on the Rock Island Train. A live horse was seen in several scenes. Seventeen back drops were washed and painted for the various settings. This caused a bit of confusion. The drops were washed near the prop room; the water from it froze, creating blue ice outside of the doors.

The stage crew is responsible for making the show run smoothly. Larry Tate was the stage manager; Dick Haskamp, Larry Hosking, and Dave Roulo were his assistants. Lincoln Park High School thanks everyone who participated in the program. It also thanks everyone who attended the program. It will be a long time before anyone forgets the "Music Man".

Advanced Journalism students busily fold the Railsplitter.

Railsplitter Staff

The paintings of great artists must receive publicity, and "A Portrait of a High School" receives this through the school newspaper, the Railsplitter.

Because this publication is written and printed entirely by LPHS students, the activities in and around the journalism room may be a bit hectic and confusing at times as the Advanced Journalism class meet and publish weekly editions of the Railsplitter.

To publish a weekly newspaper for a school as large as LPHS requires much hard work. Stories must be written, typed, and then copyread. They are now ready to be varityped, after which they must be copyread again before they are ready to be pasted-up and sent to the LPHS print shop for printing. In order that an edition of the Railsplitter might reach the students on Friday, all paste-ups must be in the print shop by Wednesday; and, to reach this deadline, staff members are often forced to hurry frantically, thus adding to the complete chaos which is so much a part of the room occupied by Mr. Robert Wick, faculty adviser.

Because the Railsplitter staff was extremely large during the spring semester, it was divided into three groups which published weekly editions in rotation, thus making it possible for the Railsplitter to be distributed more regularly. Heading these three groups were editors, Bart Mindszenty, Laura Bearden, and Sharon Richardson.

Sherry Tanguay and Laura Bearden served as co-editors of the Railsplitter during the fall semester.

A Night In Venice

11A Spinster

So much in a glance... So little in a motion

A gondola, scenes along the canals, and red striped poles provided the Italian atmosphere for the 11A Spinster, "A Night in Venice." Music by the Apostles highlighted the evening.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Riedel and Mr. Gordon, the class sold 250 tickets to the November 15 dance, resulting in the addition of three hundred dollars to the treasury.

Plans for the Spinster were directed by the class officers. Rich Flatau is president; Chuck French, vice-president; Jean Frary serves as secretary; and Greg McGathen is treasurer.

Committees composed of class members helped carry out the Venetian theme with colorful favors and posters to announce the event.

Couples danced to the music of the Apostles.

Naturally, dinner and dancing is enjoyed by all who attend the senior banquet.

Senior Banquet

The last class activity for the January Class of 1964 came in the form of the Senior Banquet. The affair was held at Veterans Memorial on January 20.

Profits from the magazine sale went for the renting of the hall and arrangements for the banquet.

Following a delicious meal of sirloin steak and all the trimmings, the program began. Robert Axford, president, welcomed the guests. Other officers, Tom Bousamra, Alice Piotrosch, and Margaret Simons reminisced about past class activities.

Members of the class provided entertainment. Tom Bousamra and Linda Sullivan each sang a solo, and the entire class joined in as Tom and Linda ended with the Alma Mater.

Dancing prevailed throughout the evening. Music was provided by the Apostles.

Senior Prom

The Senior Prom is always one of the biggest events of the school year. "Winter Magic", the January prom of 1964 was by no means an exception.

On the night of Saturday, December 7, the weather contributed to the scheme with lightly falling snow. Winter scenes, and a simulated ice blue back drop for the band highlighted the cafeteria. A "Danger Thin Ice" sign helped to lend an icy appearance to the dance floor.

Music for the evening was provided by the Apostles. A Grand March, led by the officers, was enjoyed by everyone.

Sponsors for the prom were Mrs. Judith Riedel and Mr. Kent Gordon.

Majorettes

Poise, appearance, twirling ability, and personality—these are the prerequisites for anyone trying out for majorettes. These are the assets of the LPHS Majorettes.

A week at the National Music Camp, Interlochen, Michigan prepared the girls for a successful marching season. Here, they practiced routines daily.

Twirling at all home football games, the majorettes added flag batons, a parasol routine, and a cane routine to their half-time shows. Along with the band, they traveled to Wyandotte to present a pre-game show for the last game of the season.

The Beatles never looked better!

The Majorettes perform one of their half-time routines.

Basketball season saw the group as the Beatles. They twirled lighted batons at the last basketball game while the crowd sat in the dimmed gymnasium, viewing the sparkling spectacle.

In May, the majorettes led the band in the Memorial Day Parade.

Tryouts for the majorettes was held in June to replace graduating majorettes: Suzanne Koniacy, Marguerite Kaven, Janice Denton, and Mary George.

1964 Majorettes are: Kay Mashlick, Iris Gell, Suzanne Koniacy; Captain, Marguerite Kaven; Co Captain, Mary George, Janice Keele, Janice Denton, and Linda Jordan.

What could be cuter than having two sisters cheering a team onto victory? Gloria Ploskunak, Captain of the Varsity Cheerleaders is shown above with Gigi Ploskunak LP's Varsity Mascot.

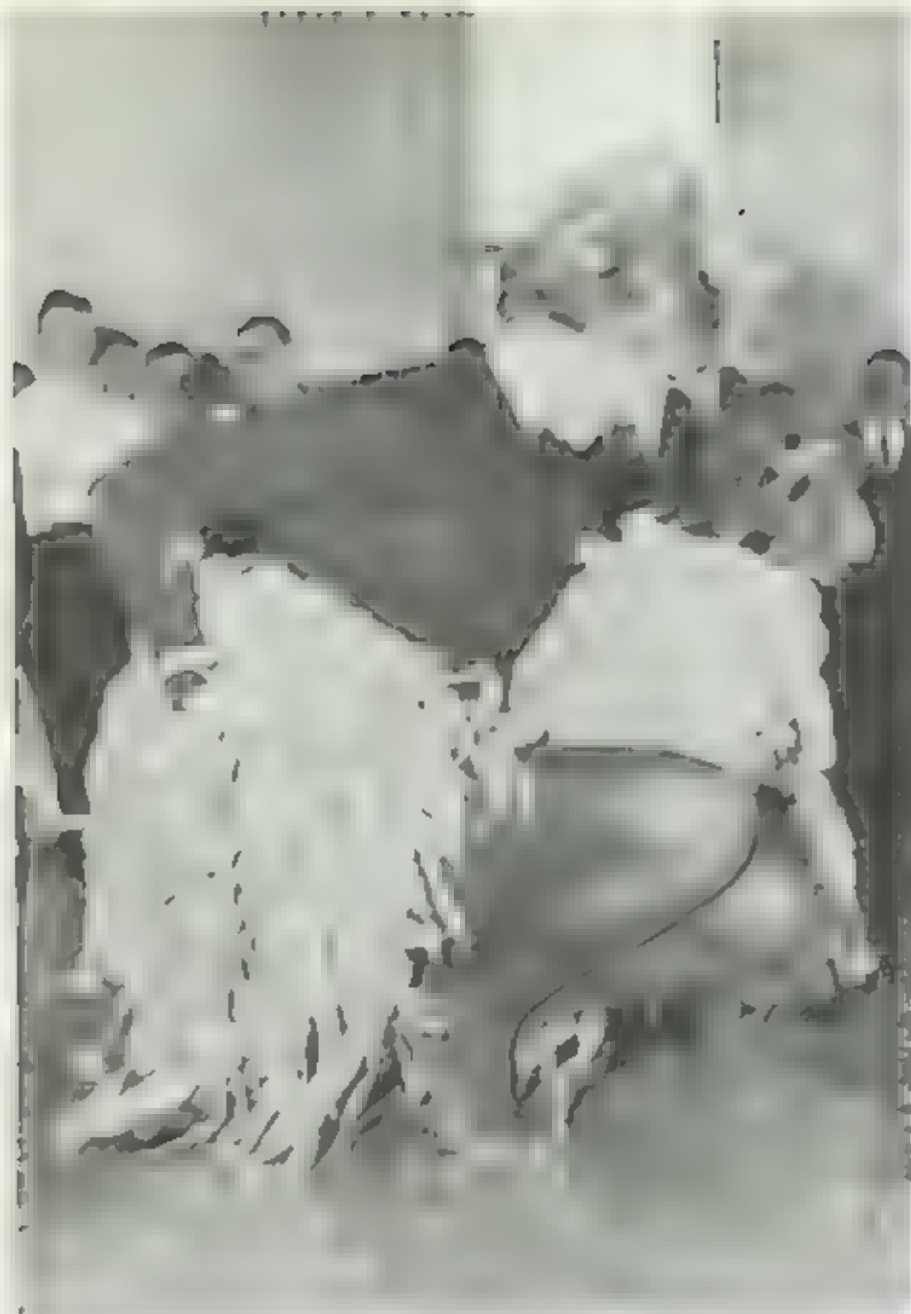

Cheerleaders

As the familiar battle cry "Go LP" rings out through LP's football stadium and gymnasium, vivid flashes of orange and blue can be seen as LP's spirit-filled cheerleaders lead the crowds to the support of their teams.

The duties and traditions of the cheerleaders are many. As well as representing LP at all athletic events, LP's cheerleaders also have the tasks of preparing humorous skits for the pep assemblies and for the public address system on Friday mornings.

This year's Varsity squad ventured to a training center for cheerleaders called Camp All-American where cheerleaders from all over the United States attended. Among the competitive events at camp, LP's cheerleaders captured a third-place ribbon for originality and team work.

After returning from camp, the girls started their vigorous summer schedule of practices which consisted of three days a week practices from 8:00 in the morning till 10:00. When school started, the cheerleaders resumed their activity-filled routine of making up skits for the pep assemblies and public address system every Monday. Then on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday's they conducted a regular two-hour practice period. In addition to the regular practices on Wednesday and Thursday, the cheerleaders attended Booster meetings and tape recorded their skits. Finally, on Friday they were given the opportunity to exhibit their skills and lead their teams on to victory at the games. This vigor-filled routine is followed through the entire year.

"Don't be chicken have team spirit."

Also, this year's squad spent a day at Eastern Michigan University attending a cheerleading clinic that consisted of the girls learning new stunts and cheers.

After football and basketball season are completed, the old cheerleaders must make way for the choosing of new girls to fill their positions since a girl can only be a cheerleader for two years. You can either be a Junior Varsity cheerleader for one year and a Varsity Cheerleader for one year; or a Varsity cheerleader for two full years. This system is set-up to enable many girls to have the wonderful chance of being a cheerleader. Try-outs are held at the end of the year for hopeful girls who wish to show their skills in the line of cheering. Months of hard practice are usually needed before a girl can fill the requirements of the preliminary try-outs.

Together with spirit and determination the girls must have and maintain at least a "C" average in academic subjects and be in good physical condition. At preliminary try-outs you must have the ability to perform cart-wheels and splits before judges. The last step in trying out, but by far the most important, is being able to originate motions to the traditional cheer "LI."

The varsity cheerleaders anxiously await the results of a free shot!

To climax the year's activities all old and new cheerleaders spend a week-end of sun and relaxation at Camp Dearborn under the supervision of their sponsor, Miss Rose Gadigan.

Being chosen to represent your school as a Cheerleader is one of the highest honors that could be bestowed upon any girl. Cheerleaders at LPHS are admired and respected for their important duties and for their most important position of upholding the integrity of Lincoln Park High. A cheerleader must at all times be at her best behavior for she is setting an example for the rest of the girls at LPHS.

Busy fingers are at work in the Audio Visual room.

Audio-Visual

Lincoln Park High School's educational system is made more effective with the help of the Audio-Visual Department. Headed by Mr. Davenport, the Audio-Visual Department provides and operates projectors and recording machines upon request of Projectionists, boys of LPHS, operate the audio-visual equipment during their free hours.

A film is the next thing to being there, and a film is a "tool of teaching" is the philosophy of the department. Seeing a film makes it easier for a student to learn and understand.

Several thousand dollars are tied up in the Lincoln Park High School film library. Over head projectors, opaque projectors, tape recorders, record players, films, and slides are among the equipment found in the audio-visual room.

Service to students and teachers of LPHS is the main purpose for this organization. Projectionists not only show films to classes, but they operate film projectors and other equipment for adult education classes and school clubs.

Every semester Mr. Davenport holds what he calls a "training session," where he teaches the new boys to be capable projectionists.

Girls work as secretaries, but no girl has served as a projectionist. It is possible, however, that girls could show films to girls gym classes and home economics classes.

Flamingos Present "Time Machine"

The week, the day, the hour finally came for the unveiling of the Flamingo show. And what a magnificent show it was!

"A Journey Into Time" was the theme of this year's show. And it was very well demonstrated by excerpts of time which composed the water ballet show.

As the curtain rose, two teenagers were causally walking down the street. The teenage boy tried to convince his dance-crazy girlfriend to read one of his science fiction magazines, but her mind was preoccupied with thoughts of the coming formal dance. Suddenly a large unusual object appeared in their path. The boy, knowing this unusual thing to be a time machine, tried to persuade her to step inside. The girl, brushing it off as one of his silly tricks, ignores him, and her thoughts quickly return to that of music. In hoping to arouse her interests, he stepped into the time machine and suddenly found himself whisked back into the Stone Age. He soon encountered a hostile looking band of cave men and decided that the Stone Age is not for him. As a result of his departure, his girl-friend became eager to try this exciting new invention. To her surprise, she finds herself in the middle of a raid on a "hot spot" in town. The Era, the wild and flamboyant Roaring 20's.

The Nile River soon became the scene, when the beautiful and enchanting Cleopatra portrayed by Sue Koniacy, appeared and stole the attention of the audience.

For the highlight of the show, a solo entitled "The Future" was performed by Sue Morris. Her travels into the dark and mystic wonders of the future entranced the viewers. Sparkling and twinkling lights added to the enchanting atmosphere.

The Flamingos express the theme, "Portrait of a High School" by displaying the activity and the painting of many happy memories through a magnificent show.

Alas, all good things must come to an end, but the wonderful and enchanting memories will always linger throughout the halls of LPHS.

Rifle Club

Striving to maintain a high degree of skill and accuracy, members of Lincoln Park High's Rifle Club meet weekly in the school's underground rifle range. The riflemen shoot at targets two inches in diameter at a distance of fifty feet. Beginning shooters learn weapon safety and proper form in the prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing positions from which they shoot. The pro-marksman medal is the first award earned by shooters, followed by the marksman, marksman first-class, and sharpshooter awards. Then the sharpshooters are eligible to earn a possible nine bars. Occasionally, when a marksman attains this rank, he may go on to earn his expert classification.

Zeroing in on the target are these members of the Rifle Club.

BIOLOGY CLUB MEMBERS

Biology Club members

Combining education with a generous sprinkling of fun activities, the newly established Biology Club, sponsored by Miss McBath, offers a chance for further advancement in the science field to all present and past biology students.

Since its beginning in September of 1963, the club's membership has risen until today it ranks high in the list of popular clubs of LPHS. Every Monday knowledge-eager students pack the biology lab to take advantage of the excellent equipment available at their finger tips, and to work on individual or group experiments, which include blood typing, embalming, plant raising, and animal behavior.

Service projects also fit into the Biology Club member's agenda. In the past semester, volunteers have planted tulip bulbs, helped landscape the school's garden, and kept the biology wing showcase filled with interesting material for the viewing pleasure of students passing from class to class.

To allow students the privilege of voicing their opinions on various problems concerning the individual or the community, is the purpose of the Discussion Club of Lincoln Park High School. Controversial books, censorship of books and movies, birth control, evolution, and various other issues have been discussed at the bi-monthly, Wednesday meetings.

One of the highlights of this year has been a visit by a representative from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. This representative gave a thirty minute presentation on the purpose and goal of the NAACP followed by a question and answer period. Many non-members attended this meeting, and everyone thoroughly enjoyed the informative hour.

The necessity of a small membership is evident as the students' "discussions" frequently result in heated arguments. Mr. William Kersul is the sponsor of this organization, and the officers for the year were, for the fall semester, Sue Reynolds, president; Mark Clark, vice-president; Nancy Kelso, secretary; and Ruth Taipala, treasurer. From January to June, Sue Reynolds served as president while Dave Blodgett, Ruth Taipala, and Dennis Toth presided as vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively.

Next season the Bowling Club will expand to two nights for the 18 other teams which could not compete because of a lack of space.

Service is the main function of the Lincoln Park Y-Teen Club sponsored by Mrs. L. Blume of the English Department. The girls, who spend much time and energy, work hand and hand with the YWCA in promoting good citizenship and good will throughout the community.

Various conferences, held during the summer and the winter, are open to the Y-Teens. The Cavell Conferences and the Mid-Winter Conferences give the members a chance to meet other girls from the Detroit Association as well as from other parts of Michigan. They are introduced to new ideas on issues of national importance and also learn how to benefit others. With their newly gained knowledge, the girls return to their club and share new plans and ideas with the other members.

"Leaders are made, not born," would appropriately fit the purpose of the Lincoln Park chapter of the National Honor Society. The ability to think, study, to succeed, and to combine these qualities in a schedule which includes extracurricular activities, provides the basis for the selection of the nominated students.

To be nominated for the National Honor Society, one must maintain a "B" or higher academic average and must be in the 11A, 12B, or 12A. An eligibility list is then sent to the faculty who vote on a numerical basis for the students that they are acquainted with. The main traits considered are leadership, character, and service. The votes are tabulated, and the nominees receiving the greatest number of points are inducted into NHS. However, no more than five per-cent of the 11A class, ten per-cent of the 12B class, or fifteen per-cent of the 12A class may be installed.

The officers main function is to deliver a speech concerning the club at the Award's Assembly each semester. From September to January, Tom Bousamra served as president, Linda Sullivan as vice-president, Jo Ann Janson as secretary, and Linda DeBernardo as treasurer. The officers for the spring semester were Lonnie Von Renner, president; Bob Dickson, vice-president; Janet Harris, secretary; and Linda DeBernardo, treasurer.

Boosters, who constitute a large part of the stands during the football and basketball seasons, is composed of students of various grades. Members learn the students' cheerlead-chants so they can help lead students as they urge their team members on to victory.

Boosters also build, as well as design, the Home-coming Queen's float which this year boasted Ruth Nichols as LPHS queen. Boosters also provide posters throughout the school, encouraging the stu-dents to attend games.

Being a monitor is not an easy job, for it consists of many duties. Sometimes you are considered a policeman, making sure every traveler in the hall has the possession of the newly adopted orange and blue hall pass. Then at other times, you can be seen diligently collecting the absence slips or running errands for a teacher. At times you become part of the engineering staff, picking up papers and making sure your hall is neatly arranged. Many a time, these all-around handymen are referred to as monsters — this is due to a slight slip of the tongue, and the result is due to a slight slip of the tongue, and the results are quite harmless.

Although it may not sound like a glamorous job, the participants are well-rewarded with activity credits.

SLAAM

Since opening in 1929, Lincoln Park High School has had library assistants. It was not until last year, however, that these students organized forming the LPHS branch of SLAAM. (Student Librarian Assistants' Association of Michigan). To be a member of this club, one has to work in the library now or have worked there in the past.

Because there is too much secretarial and committee work for one person to handle, SLAAM has two vice-presidents and two secretaries. This year's officers are president, Rose Vavrek; first vice-president, Karen Mazola; second vice-president, Joann Gall; recording secretary, Nancy Glodan; corresponding secretary, Rosalyn Flinders; and Gary Boortz, Historian.

Once each year the members travel to a state meeting to discuss various ways of running a library smoothly and effectively. Through this meeting the students also become acquainted with a college campus. This year's meeting was held at the University of Michigan during April.

Highlighting the Year's activities for the SLAAM members was the Christmas Party which was held in the faculty lounge. A complete meal was served which was followed by singing and dancing.

Since the club is small, SLAAM enjoys an intimate atmosphere which larger organizations often lack.

Girls' Athletic Association

To develop character is just one of the many facets of GAA. One of the most popular girls' clubs GAA, sponsored by Miss Irene Donnelly, also shows the girls the true value of sportsmanship and fair play. By participating in the various activities the girls are able to earn points, making them eligible for a GAA pin, perfect attendance pin, and a sweater.

The many sports are: archery, tumbling, basketball, badminton, volleyball, swimming, tennis, softball, and track.

Much thought goes into the planning of the semi-annual banquet given to honor graduates, their mothers, and initiates. The girls also arrange a Spring Carnival for the entire school body used to raise money for the club activities.

Each year, individual awards are given for four year attendance and for the outstanding senior member. An honor trophy is given to five or less seniors who are judged on ability, loyalty, sportsmanship, and honor.

Archery Club

Archery Club members zero in on the target.

Early man depended upon the bow and arrow for his food, clothing, and protection. As man progressed in time, the need for the bow was gone but many persons competed in tests of accuracy. The shooting of the bow show developed into the sport of archery. LP has its share of archery enthusiasts who display the skill every Monday after school as the Archery Club holds its meetings.

The club, 20 members strong, uses the archery range located under the Parker Fieldhouse.

Headed by Mrs. Richards, the school has sprouted a group of students extremely interested in nursing, doctoring, and all phases of first aid. These students have formed the Red Cross Club, a group that cares about good health, the prevention of illness, and the care of patients.

Education may include learning the three r's, but a club composed of students who learn to care, form the compassionate side of a school's portrait.

EPILOGUE

Another year is past, another portrait complete. The paint dries, and many of its characters now are given a definite form and go on into the world. But painting such a portrait is no easy task. Far from it. It entails time, patience, and cooperation by all involved.

The masterpainter can now look back with pride and satisfaction at a year well spent, well painted, and well preserved in the minds of all.

Now he can only look to the future, to the unknown, and hope that many more paintings can be completed in the years to come so that generation after generation may reap its rewards.

Congratulations Seniors from the independent dealers of Twin Pines Dairy Products in Lincoln Park Michigan.
